

Centrify Audit & Monitoring Service Self-Paced Training

Course Overview

Centrify Audit and Monitoring Self-Paced Technical Training prepares your IT and security teams to successfully plan, install, configure and manage the Centrify Identity-Centric PAM solutions. You will learn more about what Centrify is and how our solutions can benefit your organization.

Students who attend the self-paced training will receive experience of installing the Centrify Identity-Centric auditing tools into an Active Directory environment; configuring the solution to manage audited recorded sessions for Windows and UNIX based systems and users — configuring access for AD accounts to access UNIX systems using a role-based access methodology.

Who Should Attend This Course?

System Administrators, System Engineers, Implementation Consultants, Solution Architects, Session Auditors and Audit Administrators

Course Format

This self-paced remote training course is delivered through Centrify University and includes virtual presentations and recorded technical demonstrations of each lab exercises. Students will use their own computers to remotely connect to the training and can download a student and lab guide to use during the course and after the course to practice in their own training environment.
